Strategies to promote survey returns:

- Send in mail to patients, ask for return to hospital or clinic at earliest convenience or include a stamped, self-addressed envelope so they can mail back to hospital/clinic.
- Incorporate into waiting room paperwork.
- Put survey boxes in high traffic community locations and make sure survey copies remain stocked.
- Put survey boxes in community locations with high use by minority populations (Latino, American Indian).
- Ensure Spanish surveys are available where needed.
- Put the link to www.pphd.org on your website to direct people to take the survey electronically.
- Send out information for electronic survey via patient portal or other electronic communication methods the health system may use.
- Have handy at meetings with large groups of people (e.g., staff trainings, community events, etc.), collect at end of meeting.
- Request local schools distribute electronic link to parents via email, or include paper survey in child's backpack for parents to complete and return to schools, have school return to hospital.
- Encourage local organizations to promote the electronic survey via website, social media, or other advertising outlets.
